

TOKIO PARADE OF 50,000 JAPANESE

SEVEN THOUSAND LEAVE HONOLULU

GOOD CHEER FOR THE REPUBLICANS

JAPANESE WELCOME AMERICAN SAILORS

Rockets sprang from the cruisers outside the harbor last night, and from the West Virginia and the Tennessee in the harbor rockets responded.

Signalling by rockets was a new maneuver for the Pacific fleet's second visit to Honolulu which terminated this morning, and, to use a poor, overworked word, it was "interesting" to many.

Then, later, came signalling between the armored cruisers by searchlights, verily a beautiful spectacle.

Iaukea's Talkings

"I'm going to tell the people about the extravagance of the Republican party," said Sheriff Iaukea this morning. "I am going to point out the uselessness of the office of Mayor and a few other ways in which the money of the people is expended for nonsense."

"I am a Democrat! Though I'm running for sheriff independently, I am running as an independent Democrat and all my sympathies are with the Democrats. I have said so on the soap-box and I will say so again and I will point out that a Republican administration is an extravagant administration, and that the sensible people of this community will pay no further attention to the promises and claims of the party, the Republican party, that can do nothing better than to allow the people to suffer under a multiplicity of governmental systems."

"The Democrats are for good government and for economical government; the Republicans are for extravagant government, for jobs and for spoils."

Iaukea addressed a crowd from the platform at the corner of Bethel and King streets at noon today. Tomorrow he speaks to the men at the Honolulu Iron Works.

MUNDON WINS OUT

George Mundon, the Kauai contractor who entered suit some few months ago against the Hawaiian Mahogany Lumber Company, alleging that he had been turned down by them after being given the contract to cut trees, stated this morning that the suit had been compromised. He said that the final details had not yet been completed but that everything was practically settled.

About three months ago Mundon entered suit against the Mahogany Lumber Company for $110,000. He alleged that he had been given a contract to cut trees for the company and had brought a large force of Japanese laborers over from Kauai for the purpose, but that when he had gone to considerable expense he was put off and delayed in one way or another till his men began to leave. Finally a new contract was made with Ariole Bros. by the lumber people at a much lower figure per tree than the one which he had agreed to.

The officials of the Mahogany Company stated at the time that the suit was brought, that Mundon had no contract, but it seems to be certain now that he had some good grounds for the action or a compromise would not have been made.

DELEGATE KUHIO'S CAMPAIGN IS HAVING GREAT EFFECT ON THE BIG ISLAND—TURNING THE SCALE AGAINST THE DEMOCRATIC LEADER AND NOW REPUBLICANS ARE CLAIMING GENERAL SUCCESS OF THEIR TICKET ON HAWAII.

(Special Correspondence.)
HILO, October 19.—The most important meeting of the campaign on the big island was held in the Armory hall last Saturday evening. Previous to the appointed time, the Hilo band paraded along the main streets and played a musical welcome to the citizens. Kuhio buttons were numerous worn, and a large crowd completely filled the hall.

W. H. Beers presided and almost all the local Republican candidates were on the platform. Kuhio received a cordial welcome and spoke in Hawaiian. As he progressed it could be noticed that his arguments were making an impression on his listeners. Old Hawaiians, veterans of other campaigns, nodded their heads and voiced their approval as the Prince dwelt emphatically on the visionary promises which had been made in some quarters. He referred to his record, and promised that when returned again to Washington, his desire would be to further legislation in the interests of the whole people with reference to the land question or any other that might arise.

At this juncture, an inebriated individual in the rear became imbued with the idea that he was taking a principal part in the meeting. He arose primed with alcoholic eloquence and Cupid politely asked him to obliterate his personality, which he refused to do.

The Prince stepped down from the platform and walked towards the uninvited orator, whereupon he subsided into the arms of the police.

All in all the meeting was a great success, and as a result the Republicans are talking more hopefully of the prospects. Earlier in the day, Kuhio attended a luau at Pepeekeo and addressed over four hundred people. Sunday morning, in company with A. L. C. Atkinson, Senators Brown and Hewitt and N. K. Lyman, the Prince left for Puna, and will return here Monday in time to take passage on the Claudine to Maui.

Sam Pua, republican candidate for sheriff, and a magnetic orator, also left Hilo this morning, in company with other candidates, on a wagon tour of the island. They expect to be gone two weeks.

Whatever may have been said about the apathetic condition in which the republicans were enwrapped earlier in the campaign, no longer holds good. With the arrival of Kuhio and Atkinson a new start has been made, and it is proposed to utilize to the utmost the remaining two weeks before election.

Chairman Austen of the Finance Committee said today that assistance has been forthcoming more liberally since the gravity of the situation was realized. Explaining why this assistance was necessary, he said that Hawaii, as compared with Oahu, was a territory of magnificent distances, and that transportation was not the cheapest luxury in the island. He predicts the election of Kuhio and most of the local Republican candidates.

Great Republican Rally In Fifth

There was a large and most attentive gathering at the Republican rally at Vineyard and River streets last night. James Kalike presided with ability and a good orchestra gave lively music between speeches. Eli J. Crawford interpreted English into Hawaiian with his accustomed ability. The way he stood the strain of handling several English speakers in succession was a marvel, his voice ringing clear to the last one.

E. Henriques, a senatorial candidate, opened the ball. He advocated a public administrator in addition to pledges of earnest work in the legislature if elected. The other speakers were candidates for municipal positions.

William Kane, a supervisory candidate, spoke well in both languages.

Norman Watkins had a most cordial reception and made an impressive address, relating the benefits the Republican party had conferred on the Territory and the County of Oahu, and assuring the voters of an honest, economical and efficient administration if they elected the Republican municipal ticket. He confidently predicted the election of Wm. H. Taft as President and showed how the interests of Hawaii were bound up with the Republican party of the nation. Reminding them that the entire Board of Supervisors was to be elected by the whole municipality he pledged equal consideration for the needs of all the districts on the part of himself and colleagues. He was loudly applauded.

James C. Quinn talked good roads and streets, the development of parks and the efficient upkeep of the band. For the spit-ticket element, if any such were there, he told the story of the backslider and the bear, making the point that if any did not feel like working for the Republican nominees they should refrain from attacking them if they had no personal knowledge of reasons why any of them should not be elected. Mr. Quinn had an enthusiastic reception on mounting the stand and hearty applause on retiring.

Daniel Logan was well received on responding to the call. He said he was running on the Republican platform because he regarded that party as the party of the people and for the people, giving reason why the Republicans should be continued in control of the Territorial and municipal governments.

Finally he advocated the election of John C. Lane as Mayor, together with a Republican board to support him and John H. Wise, "a man with a will of his own who would not be ruled by clique or faction," as sheriff to direct the police, which should be increased so that all parts of the city had protection from thieves and disturbers. The reference to Wise was received with great applause.

Harry von Holt, Wm. Ahia, Wm. Aylett, Andrew E. Cox, John H. Wise, James Bicknell, D. Kalanokalan Jr. and Chris. Holt were on the chairman's list to speak when our reporter left the place for the Orpheum meeting.

The reverberations of the shorter uglier word might have been heard on Bethel street this morning, when L. L. McCandless talked about Governor Frear's speech of last night. The local campaign for a few moments took on the color of the great American Knockfest, calling to mind the national picture of Hearst and Bryan calling one another liars, Haskell calling Roosevelt a shorter uglier word and Roosevelt gleefully adding to the membership roll of the Ananias club.

For Link said that if Frear said it, the uglier word must be his response. He was referring to the governor's speech at the Orpheum, in which the governor quoted McCandless as telling natives that he proposed if elected to get them 160 acres of land each. The governor, who followed McCandless around Hawaii, ran across this report as some others have done, and he mentioned it last night and declared that such promises were worse than buncombe.

"If the governor quoted me that way," said McCandless, "I must respectfully state that he lays himself open to the imputation of using his powers of speech for the purpose of saying the thing which is not."

That isn't the way McCandless put it, but it looks better. McCandless says he is going to make a speech in reply to the governor. And he is going to accuse the governor of misquoting him. Also he is going to roast the Frear administration and Kuhio.

WHAT WILL KINNEY DO?

W. A. Kinney will return to Honolulu on the Alameda tomorrow, after a short visit to the Mainland, and there is a good deal of interest among politicians as to the attitude he will take in the campaign. Kinney is a Democrat and was the party manager in the last campaign.

It is stated in some circles that Kinney will not speak for McCandless. The matter is especially important as concerns the island of Kauai. If Kinney should put in a blow or two for Link on Kauai the effect might be strong, and some of the Democrats would like to see him do it. On the other hand, it is said that Kinney is not in sympathy with the McCandless candidacy and won't say anything for him.

FAVORABLE REPORTS

NEWS FROM OTHER ISLANDS INDICATE REPUBLICAN CAUSE TO BE GAINING.

At the meeting of the Republican Central Committee this afternoon letters were read which were highly encouraging.

From Hawaii it is said that Delegate Kalaniana'ole will receive a large majority on that island.

On Maui the Delegate's party had meetings largely attended. Kalaniana'ole, Chairman Atkinson and Judge Mahabau were the speakers. The legislative ticket will probably be elected.

Kauai reports its situation as strongly Republican.

Arthur McDowall, proprietor of the Honolulu House, Nuuanu avenue, is reported seriously ill from a stroke of paralysis. He is an old kamaina with many friends.

A meeting of the Alewa Heights Improvement Club will be held at the residence of Miss Yoder at 7:30 tomorrow night.

Secretary Mott-Smith delivered an interesting address to the pupils of the McKinley Memorial High School this morning on the subject of "The Relation of the Individual to the Community."

THE POLITICAL SITUATION

The Cathcart political situation is unchanged today. The Republican candidates are disposed to ask him to withdraw, by way of saving the rest of the ticket, but Cathcart doesn't see that he should make the personal sacrifice involved.

Cathcart will speak tomorrow night at the Orpheum, making his answer to the various charges brought against him. He claims to have a completely satisfactory statement. There are rumors that he will withdraw as a candidate anyhow, also that Whitney will run, that Judge Kingsbury will run, or Larnach will run, if Cathcart withdraws. Cathcart, however, states that he will not withdraw under any circumstances.
